

Webinar Series

Transformational learning through high school internships: A discussion of best practices

Join the leadership and educators from Big Picture Learning for a discussion of best practices for supporting transformational learning through high school internships.

Wednesday, April 27, 2022, 11am to 12pm CST.

Use the following link to register: go.wisc.edu/wck7h6

Andrew Frishman is a former BPL advisor and teacher, and the current co-Executive Director of Big Picture Learning, directing the expansion of the BPL Network including the launch of innovative schools and initiatives across the US & internationally.

Pam Gordon is a former history and civics teacher, teacher educator, BPL advisor, internship coordinator, and principal. She currently runs professional development at BPL's Leominster Center for Excellence and works helping schools with their internship programs.

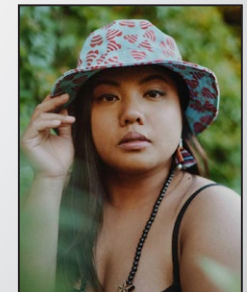

Maribeth Tabanera aka Kilusan (siya/sanda/they) is a Filipinx Tagalog Visayan queer non-binary multihyphenate educator, artist, dancer, choreographer, DJ and community organizer. They are a second-generation settler on Treaty No. 1 Territory. A life-long learner, they have focused their energy on diving deeply into their passions of dance, education, music, social justice and community building. Maribeth is currently the Internship Coordinator at three BPL schools in Winnipeg, Manitoba.

Andrew Frishman

Pam Gordon

Maribeth Tabanera
aka Kilusan

The Center for Research on College-Workforce Transitions (CCWT) is an initiative of the University of Wisconsin-Madison. CCWT's mission is to conduct and support research, critical policy analysis, and public dialogue on how college students experience the transition to the workforce. CCWT strives to inform policies, programs, and practices that promote academic and career success for all learners.

WISCONSIN
UNIVERSITY OF WISCONSIN-MADISON